

Keep Your Customers Safe on Microsoft 365

Your clients depend on their email—and on you—to keep them safe.

Email is a top attack vector for a reason—it's one of the easiest entry points for cyberattacks because people rely on it to get their jobs done. And Microsoft 365™ is an attractive target for cybercriminals due to its massive user base. While Microsoft 365 includes built-in security, it can sometimes come up short in handling all your security and data retention needs. Here are some key figures you should know.

Email attacks and data breaches by the numbers:

Relying on Microsoft 365 alone brings risks:

- Email remains vulnerable to a single line of defense that can fail
- Cloud services are prime targets for spear-phishing attacks⁶
- Customers may not realize they're vulnerable until it's too late
- Productivity can dip due to Microsoft 365 outages and downtime events
- Users can accidentally delete critical email data, and you may lack a backup

A professional email security solution is essential for stronger cloud security:

- Adds an extra layer of email protection and continuity
- Drastically improves your email filtering
- Gives you greater control and visibility over Microsoft 365 email flow
